Connecting Mississipians with long-term care services and supports

What kind of help do you need?

Mississippi Access to Care (MAC) Centers are welcoming and accessible places located across the state where people can obtain unbiased information and assistance in locating services and supports. They provide a central source of reliable and objective information about a broad range of programs and services. MAC Centers also help people understand and evaluate the various options available to them regardless of income or eligibility for publicly funded long-term care.

Who do MAC Centers help ...

MAC Centers are here to help older people and people with disabilities – along with their families and representatives – find long-term care services and supports to keep them living well and independently.

How do MAC Centers help ...

MAC Specialists provide assistance within a local center, over the telephone, within a person's home, or in another convenient location. All assistance is free and confidential.
